THE GRANT

The purchaser is granted a non-exclusive, non-transferable, perpetual license to preach and teach The Woman Who Ended the War in one congregation or campus, as often as desired. You may edit the manuscript for local context and your own voice, record and stream the sermon as part of your congregation's normal services, and print the outline and small-group guide for your preaching team and groups. Your edits are yours; the underlying manuscript remains the property of Silenced Saints. No attribution is required.

PERMITTED

- Preaching and teaching the sermon in one congregation or campus, as often as you like.
- Editing the manuscript for local context and your own voice.
- Recording and streaming the sermon as part of normal services.
- Printing the outline and small-group guide for your preaching team and groups.
- Keeping the files on your church's private, access-controlled system.

NOT PERMITTED

- ✕ Sharing the files with preachers outside your congregation.
- ✕ Posting the manuscript publicly or selling it.
- ✕ Republishing the manuscript as a standalone work, edited or not.
- ✕ Using one license across multiple campuses.
- ✕ Using the material at a paid conference or event without written permission.

One license covers one congregation or campus. Multi-campus, paid-event, and publishing use require written permission. This license does not expire.
